MEMBERS OF AAG RECEIVE

1. The AAG journal, Geochemistry: Exploration, Environment, Analysis (GEEA), published in partnership with the Geological Society of London, four issues per year. GEEA is one of the journals in the GeoScienceWorld consortium (www.geoscienceworld.org) offered electronically and is now in the Journal Citation Reports-Science Edition.
2. Four copies per year of the Association's EXPLORE newsletter. EXPLORE periodically contains a membership directory, in addition to a list of recent papers of interest in journals other than GEEA, scientific articles, recent AAG news and other features.
3. ELEMENTS, an international magazine of mineralogy, geochemistry and petrology, published bimonthly. Every issue explores a theme of broad and current interest in the mineral and geochemical sciences. This is a new addition to AAG membership.
4. Reduced prices on a number of publications from AAG and GeolSoc Publishing, reduced registration at AAG conferences as well as conferences hosted by certain other organizations.
